

May 16th, 2008

Important Notice:

IONC (International Organization of Nutritional Consultants)

Is now in the process of updating the official designation of

RNCP (Registered Nutritional Consulting Practitioner)

to

ROHP (Registered Orthomolecular Health Practitioner)

The document you have requested is currently not available until this change has been fully implemented within all documents and distributed media. Please contact the IONC directly for more information and to receive a copy of the document you intended to download.